PERSBERICHT

Reliance Globalcom Named a Leader of Global Business Ethernet Services by Vertical Systems Group

Reliance Globalcom ranked as a "Top Tier" service provider in the 2009 Global Ethernet Leaderboard of service providers that lead the global interconnect market

LONDON – October 7, 2009 – Reliance Globalcom, a leading global provider of managed network and communication services for multinational enterprises, carriers and consumers, today announced it has secured a leading position on Vertical Systems Group's Global Business Ethernet Leaderboard. The Leaderboard focuses on the global service footprint of network service providers, providing rank in terms of the number of international Ethernet port installations at enterprise customer sites as of mid-2009.

As a top-tier provider of international communications services, Reliance Globalcom offers a core network foundation that is comprised of scalable, resilient, high-capacity VPLS-based Ethernet. Reliance Globalcom's Enterprise Global Ethernet service delivers connectivity to critical sites in key destinations in developed and emerging markets around the world including the U.S., India, Asia and the Middle East.

“We are pleased to be recognized as one of the top-tier providers of global Ethernet services by Vertical Systems. As an early pioneer of Ethernet services, Reliance Globalcom has worked aggressively to meet the demands of global multinational enterprises and provider partners, and is continuing to drive the expansion of innovative Ethernet services across the globe,” said Punit Garg, President and CEO, Reliance Globalcom. “Reliance Globalcom owns and operates the largest private network in the world and will continue to invest in the expansion and innovation of its network infrastructure and services enabling our customers to grow and expand their businesses into new markets.”

With an emphasis on delivering the right mix of performance and cost in the countries where the customer operates, Reliance Globalcom assembles a network that draws on its world-class undersea cable system, fully-managed and fully-meshed Ethernet services, and partner relationships with more than 700 certified access suppliers. A carrier and technology neutral approach to network provisioning enables Reliance Globalcom to leverage its Ethernet assets and proven experience in carrier management to customize a solution that meets the customer’s business requirements around the world.
